VINTAGE TOY SALE

Saturday • September 9
Kensington Town Hall

KHS Members-Only Preview Sale: 10 – 11 AM
Public Sale: 11 AM – 4 PM

The Kensington Historical Society is doing some housekeeping and selling its collection of vintage toys from the Barbelle Creative Center for Children, a local nursery school run by Isabelle Barr. When the school closed in the late 1970s, Barr donated part of her collection to the Town, which then created a small children's museum. After many years, the museum was replaced when an elevator was installed for accessibility to Town Hall. Since that time, Society members have used the toys in displays for the Noyes and Kensington Park libraries. Rather than have the toys continue to reside in storage, KHS hopes to see them re-homed so that they can once again be enjoyed! All proceeds of the sale benefit KHS.
